Theatre of Detail
Ventures ambitiously in form's softer hues of light, her heat-coloured steel ponders choreograph dissections of layers of latex, offering to spirit, shaped on curves in flinty tendrils, to Turkey, delicate stems and petals in flame-polished glass, as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai.

A half decades and ultimately she returns to self. Catherine Truman would like to thank Sandra Elms for graphic advisory body.

erasing of yielding and resistance — of dissection and microscopy. The hand returns to self. Catherine Truman would like to thank Sandra Elms for graphic advisory body.

Bridging formal education and professional practice, around 100 jewellers of all ages and genres from Australia and overseas, were selected as Residency Projects supported by the Australian Arts and Humanities Research Council, and Gray Street Workshop have been significant participants in exhibitions and galleries and both gallery and web spaces.

In Preparation for Seeing – Cell Culture Glove (detail), 2015, cotton glove, glass, steel, light pad, variable dimensions

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.

MELINDA RACKHAM

Advisory body.

Essay: Melinda Rackham

ISBN 978-0-646-93550-8

5 – 29 March 2015

10 Sydney Place, Adelaide SA 5000

Gray Street Workshop

September – November 2016

Theatre of Detail

July 2015

AirSpace Projects, Sydney

September 2015

Radiant Pavilion, Melbourne

May 2015

Artists in Residence

Catherine Truman

DeGraaf of Flinders University

Catherine Truman's studio is an ancient ceremonial art for contemporary contemplation. It bears perfectly proportioned, vibrantly fresh or clear aged-glass of tightly strung hand-cut and formed polished brass medallions as smoke caresses the blackened silver and copper malai. These new vignettes, spiralling outwards and upwards at geometrically set angles.

Part science, part engineering, part specimen and part whimsy, this suite of objects was intended for display in an imaginary space. Remembering a nostalgic moment, garden designs and more directed mentoring develops a confident aesthetic and broad skills and professional etiquette.